

WELLBEING RISK ASSESSMENT

Helping organisations protect their most precious assets - people!

KNOWING WHAT YOUR TEAM NEEDS

Mapien's team of psychologists have been helping organisations assess and reduce psychological risk for over 15 years.

COVID-19 has resulted in organisations looking at how to best support their people through a rapidly changing work environment and great uncertainty.

We're here to help! Pandemics pose a dangerously real and significant threat to businesses and their people. During this unprecedented time, we're heavily discounting our Mapien Wellbeing Risk Assessment Report, helping you manage risk when your people need it most.
